Item 4. The Solicitation or Recommendation.

Solicitation or Recommendation

During a meeting held on February 11, 2015, the Board of Directors of the Company (the “comScore Board”) unanimously approved the Strategic Alliance Agreement, the Stock Purchase Agreement, the Stockholders Rights Agreement, the Voting Agreement, and the transactions contemplated by these agreements, including the Offer. In approving these transactions, the comScore Board considered a complex and wide range of factors, including, among other things, (i) the potential of the strategic alliance with WPP and the European IAM Acquisition to provide significant opportunities and important strategic benefits for the Company, and ultimately create value for the Company’s stockholders; (ii) the likelihood that it may take a substantial amount of time for the Company to realize the benefits of these transactions and deliver value to the Company’s stockholders; (iii) the fact that the acquisition of a substantial ownership position in the Company by Purchaser was a key prerequisite for Purchaser and WPP to enter into the Strategic Alliance Agreement and the related transactions; (iv) the fact that the Offer was a reasonable alternative to a direct issuance of shares to Purchaser that gives Purchaser an opportunity to achieve desired share ownership in the Company while limiting the incremental dilution to existing stockholders from a direct issuance; and (vi) the fact that the Offer offers liquidity opportunities for the Company’s stockholders at a price potentially at a premium to the then current market prices in an orderly fashion and without the typical transaction costs and market uncertainty associated with market sales. For a more detailed discussion of the factors considered by comScore Board, see “Reasons for the comScore Board's Determination" below. Because of these competing considerations, while the comScore Board unanimously determined that the transactions are in the best interest of the Company's stockholders, the comScore Board is not expressing an opinion on and is remaining neutral with respect to the Offer.

Accordingly, the comScore Board makes no recommendation to comScore stockholders regarding whether to accept the Offer and tender their Shares to Purchaser pursuant to the Offer. comScore urges each stockholder to make its own decision regarding the Offer, including, among other things, the adequacy of the Offer Price, based on all available information and in light of the stockholder's own investment objectives; the stockholder's view with respect to the Company's prospects and outlook; the matters considered by the Board, as noted below; and any other factors that the stockholder deems relevant to its, his or her investment decision.

Background and Reasons for the comScore Board's Determination

Background

In the ordinary course of business, the comScore Board and the Company's senior management review and assess various strategic alternatives available to comScore that may enhance stockholder value. These reviews and discussions focus, among other things, on the opportunities and risks associated with the Company's business and financial condition and strategic relationships and other strategic options.

In April 2014, Magid Abraham, Executive Chairman of the comScore Board, and Serge Matta, Chief Executive Officer of the Company, attended a lunch with Sir Martin Sorrell, Group Chief Executive of WPP, and briefly discussed the possibility of a joint venture between WPP and the Company outside of North America. Thereafter, on May 5, 2014, Sir Martin and Messrs. Andrew Scott, Chief Operating Officer of WPP Europe, Eric Salama, Chief Executive Officer of WPP's Kantar group of companies, Magid Abraham and Serge Matta held a teleconference during which the parties continued discussions regarding a potential joint venture between WPP and the Company outside of North America.

In connection with the parties' exploration of a potential transaction, WPP retained Goldman, Sachs & Co. ("Goldman") as its financial advisor and Davis & Gilbert LLP ("D&G") as its legal advisor, and the Company retained J.P. Morgan Securities LLC ("JPM") as its financial advisor and Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C. ("WSGR") as its legal advisor. On May 6, 2014, the Company and WPP executed a mutual confidentiality agreement to facilitate the exchange of information relating to the potential transaction.

From late May and through early August 2014, the parties explored a number of alternative deal structures and held a series of discussions relating thereto. Following these discussions, the parties decided that instead of a joint venture, WPP and the Company would enter into a strategic relationship consisting of a series of transactions, including the Company's acquisition of WPP's European IAM Business, WPP's acquisition of an equity stake in the Company, and the development of certain strategic collaboration designed to explore business opportunities outside of the United States that would benefit both parties.

On October 6, 2014, WPP sent an initial draft of the non-binding term sheet to the Company. From mid-October through late November, WPP and the Company and their respective financial advisors engaged in a series of negotiations of deal terms and exchanged multiple drafts of the non-binding term sheet. Among other things, the parties negotiated WPP's standstill obligations, the limitations on its voting rights with respect to Shares acquired in the transaction, and various regulatory considerations. During the same period, the Company and its representatives began conducting due diligence on the European IAM Business, including the review of certain documents provided by WPP. On December 24, 2014, the Company and GUSA executed the non-binding term sheet, which set forth the principal structure of the sale of the European IAM Business, the Offer, and the strategic alliance between the Company and WPP. The non-binding term sheet remained subject to the drafting and negotiation of definitive agreements. Following the execution of the non-binding term sheet, the Company continued to conduct diligence on the European IAM Business.

On December 26, 2014, WPP commenced its diligence process by reviewing the Company's SEC filings, and reports issued by financial analysts. On various dates during January 2015, WPP and its representatives conducted telephonic and in-person due diligence sessions with the Company and its representatives regarding various aspects of the Company's business.

On January 9, 2015, the Company sent initial drafts of the Voting Agreement and the Stockholders Rights Agreement to WPP and Goldman; a few days later, the Company also provided initial drafts of the Strategic Alliance Agreement and the agreement that ultimately became the Stock Purchase Agreement.

From mid-January to February 11, 2015, WPP and its advisors and the Company and its advisors exchanged multiple drafts of the transaction documents. A number of calls occurred wherein the parties negotiated the terms of transaction documents and discussed various issues, including outstanding diligence items and regulatory matters. During this period, JPM and members of the Company's management continued to respond to diligence requests and inquiries from WPP and Kantar.

On February 9, 2015, a committee of the board of directors of WPP unanimously approved the Stock Purchase Agreement negotiated between the parties and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the Offer.

On February 11, 2015, the Company informed WPP that, at a special meeting of the Company's board of directors held on February 11, 2015, the board unanimously approved the Strategic Alliance Agreement, the Stock Purchase Agreement, the Stockholders Rights Agreement, the Voting Agreement, and the transactions contemplated by these agreements, including the Offer.

On February 11, 2015, following the approval by the Company's board of directors, the Company, as Buyer Parent, CS B.V., as Buyer, GUSA, as Seller Parent, and Purchaser, as Seller, executed the Stock Purchase Agreement and each of the Company and WPP issued press releases announcing the execution of the Stock Purchase Agreement.

On February 20, pursuant to the Stock Purchase Agreement, Purchaser and WPP commenced the Offer.

Reasons for the comScore Board's Determination

In approving the Stock Purchase Agreement, the Strategic Alliance Agreement and the other transaction agreements and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the Offer, and in determining not to express an opinion and to remain neutral with respect to the Offer, the comScore Board consulted with comScore's senior management, its legal and financial advisors, and reviewed, evaluated and considered numerous range of factors and a significant amount of information and data, including the following:

- Information concerning comScore's business, financial performance (both past and prospective) and comScore's financial condition, results of operations (both past and prospective), business and strategic objectives, as well as the risk of accomplish those objectives;
- The terms of the Offer, including the Offer Price, the closing conditions, circumstances under which Purchaser would be required to extend the period of the Offer, and the circumstances under which the Offer could be terminated.
- The fact that stockholders who tender their shares in the Offer would have withdrawal rights as provided in the Offer and could withdraw comScore Shares tendered in the Offer prior to the expiration of the Offer if they desire to do so based on any changes to the comScore Board's position with respect to the Offer or otherwise.
- The potential value to the Company of the transactions, including the value of the European IAM business and the potential increase in value in that business resulting from potential product cross-selling and co-development with WPP and the potential value of the Strategic Alliance Agreement, and the likelihood of achieving such value.

- The fact that, if requested by Purchaser, the Company is required to issue new Shares to Purchaser if the number of Shares acquired by Purchaser pursuant to the Offer is below a certain level, and the issuance of new Shares would have a dilutive effect on the Shares owned by the Company's existing stockholders.
- The potential dilution to the Company's existing stockholders if, in lieu of the Offer, the Purchaser were to directly purchase newly issued Shares from the Company for cash in order to achieve its desired ownership position in the Company, which was a key prerequisite for WPP and the Purchaser to enter into the Strategic Alliance Agreement and the Stock Purchase Agreement.
- Each stockholder's ability to make an independent judgment of whether to maintain its interest in comScore or to reduce or liquidate its interest in comScore by participating in the Offer based on publicly available information; the comScore Board expects that factors that may be relevant to this decision include, among other things:
 - the stockholder's determination of the adequacy of the Offer Price in light of the stockholder's own investment objectives;
 - the stockholder's views as to comScore's prospects and outlook or the likelihood that comScore will enter into a strategic transaction that will include a change of control premium to be paid to comScore's stockholders that is larger than any premium paid in the Offer;
 - the stockholder's need for liquidity or diversification of its investment portfolio;
 - other investment opportunities, including other types of investments, available to the stockholder;
 - the stockholder's assessment of the appropriateness for investing in equity securities generally in the current economic, business and political climate, with respect to which the stockholder may wish to consult with competent investment professionals;
 - the tax consequences to the stockholder of participating in the Offer, for which the stockholder may wish to consult with competent tax advisors; and
 - the factors considered by comScore Board as described herein and any other factors that the stockholder deems relevant to its investment decision.
- Historical market prices, volatility and trading volume and other information with respect to comScore Common Stock, including the fact that the Offer Price represents a premium of approximately 10% over the volume weighted average price of the Shares for the twenty (20) trading days ending on February 9, 2015, the last full trading day before the February 11, 2015 meeting of the Board held to evaluate the Offer.
- The extent to which the Offer Price exceeds the cost basis of certain significant holders of comScore Common Stock;
- The share price targets and EBITDA estimates in publicly-available analyst reports issued between October 2014 and January 2015 by Wedbush Securities, SunTrust Robinson Humphrey, Goldman Sachs, Breen Capital, Oppenheimer and Cantor Fitzgerald.
- That stockholders who tender their shares in the Offer (i) would eliminate many risks and uncertainties that come with owning shares of comScore Common Stock, including those related to the performance of comScore, the industry in which comScore operates, the financial markets and prices at which other offerors may be willing to pay for their shares of comScore Common Stock; and (ii) would forgo the opportunity to participate in any future benefits arising from continued ownership of those Shares, including any potential future earnings growth of comScore, including those resulting from the strategic alliance with WPP and the European IAM Acquisition, and any subsequent increase in the market value of comScore Common Stock.
- That stockholders whose shares of comScore Common Stock are tendered and purchased in the Offer will not participate in any future strategic transactions involving comScore, such as a sale of comScore or a significant part of its assets or capital stock. Although no such transaction is pending or contemplated at this time, comScore Board cannot predict if or when any such transaction may occur in the future and, if such a transaction were to occur, whether the terms of any such transaction would be more favorable or less favorable to comScore's stockholders than the Offer.

The foregoing discussion of information and factors considered and given weight by the comScore Board is not intended to be exhaustive, but is believed to include all of the material factors considered by the comScore Board. In view of the variety of information and factors considered in connection with its evaluation of the contemplated transactions, including the Offer, the comScore Board did not find it practicable to, and did not, quantify or otherwise assign relative weights to the specific factors considered in reaching its determinations and recommendations. In addition, individual members of the comScore Board may have given different weights to different factors.

Intent to Tender

As described above in Item 3 - "Intent Not to Tender," the Company's directors and executive officers have indicated they will not tender Shares held of record or owned beneficially by them in the Offer. To the knowledge of the Company after making reasonable inquiry, none of the Company's other affiliates currently intends to tender Shares held of record or owned beneficially by them in the Offer.

Item 5. Persons/Assets, Retained, Employed, Compensated or Used.

Under the terms of J.P. Morgan's engagement, comScore has agreed to pay J.P. Morgan for its financial advisory services in connection with the Offer and the Stock Purchase Agreement an aggregate fee currently estimated to be up to $5.5 million, a portion of which is payable contingent upon completion of the Offer and a portion of which is payable contingent upon whether the aggregate percentage of comScore's Common Stock acquired by Purchaser and WPP pursuant to the Offer and the transactions is equal to or greater than 15% of the comScore Common Stock currently outstanding. In addition, comScore has agreed to reimburse J.P. Morgan for its expenses, including fees and expenses of counsel, and to indemnify J.P. Morgan and related parties against liabilities, including liabilities under federal securities laws, arising out of or in connection with the services rendered and to be rendered by J.P. Morgan under its engagement.

Neither comScore nor any person acting on its behalf has or currently intends to employ, retain or compensate any person to make solicitations or recommendations to the stockholders of comScore on its behalf with respect to the Offer, the Stock Purchase Agreement or related matters.

(1) The Company previously announced a stock repurchase program in June 2014 (the "Repurchase Program"). The Repurchase Program provides for the repurchase of up to $50.0 million of our common stock between June 6, 2014 and June 6, 2015. Such repurchases are made from time to time subject to pre-determined price and volume guidelines established by the Company's board of directors. As of February 13, 2015, there was $47.2 million remaining under the Repurchase Program. As part of the Repurchase Program, shares may be purchased in open market transactions or pursuant to any trading plan that may be adopted in accordance with Rule 10b5-1 of the Exchange Act. The timing, manner, price and amount of any repurchases will be determined at the Company's discretion, and the Repurchase Program may be suspended, terminated or modified at any time for any reason.

Item 7. Purposes of the Transaction and Plans or Proposals.

Except as indicated in this Schedule 14D-9, (i) the Company is not undertaking or engaged in any negotiations in response to the Offer that relate to, or would result in: (a) a tender offer for or other acquisition of the Company's securities by the Company, any of its subsidiaries, or any other person; (b) any extraordinary transaction such as a merger, reorganization or liquidation, involving the Company or any of its subsidiaries; (c) any purchase, sale or transfer of a material amount of assets of the Company or any of its subsidiaries; or (d) any material change in the present dividend rates or policy, or indebtedness or capitalization of the Company and (ii) there are no transactions, board resolutions or agreements in principle or signed contracts in response to the Offer that relate to, or would result in, one or more of the events referred to in clause (i) of this Item 7.

Item 8. Additional Information.

Appraisal Rights

comScore's stockholders do not have appraisal rights in connection with the Offer.

Delaware Anti-Takeover Law

Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL") prevents certain "business combinations" with an "interested stockholder" (generally, any person who owns or has the right to acquire 15% or more of a corporation's outstanding voting stock) for a period of three years following the time such person became an interested stockholder, unless, among other things, prior to becoming an interested stockholder, the board of directors of the corporation approved either the business combination or the transaction pursuant to which the person became an interested stockholder. The comScore Board approved the Offer and the other transactions contemplated by the Transaction Documents (as defined in the Offer to Purchase) for purposes of Section 203 of the DGCL. The Offer and such other transactions are therefore not subject to the restrictions on "business combinations" under Section 203 of the DGCL. Many other states have also adopted laws and regulations applicable to attempts to acquire securities of corporations that are incorporated or have substantial assets, stockholders, principal executive offices or principal places of business in such states or whose business operations otherwise have substantial economic effects in such states. In the event it is asserted that any such provisions apply to the Offer or the other transactions contemplated by the Transaction Documents, we may be required to file certain documents with, or receive approvals from, the relevant state authorities.

Antitrust Law

United States. Under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended (the "HSR Act"), and the rules that have been promulgated thereunder by the Federal Trade Commission (the "FTC"), certain acquisitions may not be consummated unless certain information has been furnished to the FTC and Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice (the "DOJ") and certain waiting period requirements have been satisfied. The purchase of Shares pursuant to the Offer is subject to such requirements.

Under the provisions of the HSR Act applicable to the Offer, the acquisition of Shares pursuant to the Offer may be completed following the expiration of a 15-day waiting period following the filing by WPP and comScore of their Notification and Report Forms with respect to the Offer, unless WPP receives a Request for Additional Information and Documentary Materials (a "Second Request") from the FTC or DOJ or unless early termination of the waiting period is granted. If, within the initial 15-day waiting period, either the FTC or DOJ issues a Second Request, the waiting period with respect to the Offer will be extended.

WPP and comScore each intend to file their respective Notification and Report Forms with the FTC and the DOJ shortly after commencement of the Offer.

Other Foreign Jurisdictions. It may be necessary to make filings in addition to those enumerated above with governmental entities in foreign jurisdictions relating to the acquisition of the Shares pursuant to the Offer or the consummation of the European IAM Acquisition. There can be no assurance that any of the governmental entities will not challenge the acquisition of the Shares or the consummation of the European IAM Acquisition on competition or other grounds and, if a challenge is made, the results cannot be predicted.
